

Despite the epidemic of precarious, unsafe, and toxic work, the WSIB is more concerned with its own bottom line than with protecting the well-being of injured workers. We need to come together and demand our right to compensation. Join us on the streets.

Also, please join us for these related events:

March 31st. Dinner at 7pm, Vigil at 8pm

Overnight Vigil at Queen's Park, led by the Women of Inspiration Injured Worker Group. Cultural showcase to celebrate the resilience of injured workers, featuring music, poetry, storytelling, and satire.

June 1st, 2:00pm

Panel discussion: Fighting Back Against Unsafe and Toxic Work. Featured speakers include injured workers, survivors and victims of occupational disease, healthcare workers standing up to workplace violence, and health & safety activists. OCAD U Auditorium, 100 McCaul St., Room 190

Despite the epidemic of precarious, unsafe, and toxic work, the WSIB is more concerned with its own bottom line than with protecting the well-being of injured workers. We need to come together and demand our right to compensation. Join us on the streets.

Also, please join us for these related events:

March 31st. Dinner at 7pm, Vigil at 8pm

Overnight Vigil at Queen's Park, led by the Women of Inspiration Injured Worker Group. Cultural showcase to celebrate the resilience of injured workers, featuring music, poetry, storytelling, and satire.

June 1st, 2:00pm

Panel discussion: Fighting Back Against Unsafe and Toxic Work. Featured speakers include injured workers, survivors and victims of occupational disease, healthcare workers standing up to workplace violence, and health & safety activists. OCAD U Auditorium, 100 McCaul St., Room 190

Despite the epidemic of precarious, unsafe, and toxic work, the WSIB is more concerned with its own bottom line than with protecting the well-being of injured workers. We need to come together and demand our right to compensation. Join us on the streets.

Also, please join us for these related events:

March 31st. Dinner at 7pm, Vigil at 8pm

Overnight Vigil at Queen's Park, led by the Women of Inspiration Injured Worker Group. Cultural showcase to celebrate the resilience of injured workers, featuring music, poetry, storytelling, and satire.

June 1st, 2:00pm

Panel discussion: Fighting Back Against Unsafe and Toxic Work. Featured speakers include injured workers, survivors and victims of occupational disease, healthcare workers standing up to workplace violence, and health & safety activists. OCAD U Auditorium, 100 McCaul St., Room 190

Despite the epidemic of precarious, unsafe, and toxic work, the WSIB is more concerned with its own bottom line than with protecting the well-being of injured workers. We need to come together and demand our right to compensation. Join us on the streets.

Also, please join us for these related events:

March 31st. Dinner at 7pm, Vigil at 8pm

Overnight Vigil at Queen's Park, led by the Women of Inspiration Injured Worker Group. Cultural showcase to celebrate the resilience of injured workers, featuring music, poetry, storytelling, and satire.

June 1st, 2:00pm

Panel discussion: Fighting Back Against Unsafe and Toxic Work. Featured speakers include injured workers, survivors and victims of occupational disease, healthcare workers standing up to workplace violence, and health & safety activists. OCAD U Auditorium, 100 McCaul St., Room 190