Who should attend?

Workers compensation representatives.

What will you learn?

This summit aims to bring together a diverse group of union RTW and compensation representatives, healthcare professionals, and researchers who share a vested interest in the benefits of successful and sustainable joint RTW programs.

Focus will be given to the important link between primary and secondary prevention in developing beneficial and sustainable joint RTW programs. Presentations will highlight a number of joint RTW programs where unions have succeeded in negotiating with the employer to implement these programs.

Topics and discussion will explore initiatives to encourage meaningful ergonomic changes being made by employers, injured workers' perspectives on injury prevention, overview of the Prevention Link RTW initiative and services, and experiences from jurisdictions outside Ontario.

This summit will provide an excellent opportunity for union RTW and compensation representatives to review best practices and to identify potential RTW opportunities to liaise with Prevention Link, while strategizing a best way forward in this important area of labour relations.

The views expressed are the views of the Ontario Federation of Labour (OFL) and Prevention Link and do not necessarily reflect those of the Province of Ontario.
